RIVAL OF MORDKIN IN GREEK DANCES.

of them, and the song of Zaphet are all depicted by tableaux, after which "Nayrb" dances some of his grim tragedies, the highest of which he reached when he depicts the boy lover of Chlopatra, to whom the cup of poison is given because he dared to swim to her large.

"On the Love of Echo" has been elaborately staged and is said to be as pretentious as anything undertaken in Washington by amateurs. Among those taking part in this sketch are Miss Florence Fleming, who will appear next month in Paris in classic dances, and is well known here. Others in this sketch are Mrs. Mary Owen, Miss Roberta Ames, Mrs. Rhoads, the Misses Sands and Buchanan. Those appearing in the dance of the "Willows" and the dance of the "Mists" are the Misses Hunt, Harris, Sargent, Alderman, Willis, Trevor, De Grange, Anderson, Mayer, Timmons, Stark, Kerr, White, Erbacher, Horrell, Hines, Grosvenor, Filling, Wilson, Pearson, Atkinson, and Hill.

Another of the sketches to be presented is "La Reve," which is described as "a dainty story in pantomime and dance," the scenes of which are laid in Paris in 1880. Those taking the parts are Miss Roberta Ames as Emilie, Miss De Grange as Mlle. Pincenot, Mr. Blakely as Pierrot, Mr. Carl Butman as Monsieur le Cure. Those in the chorus are the Misses Allen, Hunt, Buchanan, Erbacher, Wharton, Hitchcock, Harrison, Woodward, and Patterson.

Many prominent people have already taken boxes for the performance on Friday afternoon: Mrs. Marshall Field, Representative McKinley, Mrs. Edson Bradley, Mrs. J. E. Throppe, Mrs. George T. Oliver, Mrs. Walter Tuckerman, and many others. And if the advance sale of seats can be taken as a sample a capacity house will be present.

Seats are on sale for the performance at the Belasco Theater and at 1233 F street, where an exhibition and sale of the work done at the Neighborhood House is now going on. At the exhibition rare and artistic handwork can be seen, including hand-dyed silk scarfs, raffa hats, tunics, wraps, and various other articles.

Invitations have been sent out from the White House for the Easter week musical Friday night, April 12.

The committee on arrangements are Mrs. Bell Riley, the president, Mrs. J. E. Mulvan, Mrs. Archibald Young, and others have every reason to expect this ball to be as brilliant and successful as those of the past.

An event which follows close upon the closing of the spring school vacations will be the College University (of Hamilton, N. Y.) Cleo Club, which is to be given in the ballroom of the Raleigh Hotel a week from to-morrow.

E. Andrews, 1225 Fairmont street northwest.

Mrs. Macfarlane Brockett, the New York tenor, was to have taken part, but he was detained from Washington, and in his place Mrs. Ralph Barnard and Richard Backing will sing "A Little Bit of Love." Remittances for invitations should be made to Mrs. Andrews.

The Ladies' Club of the Washington Sangerbund will have an Easter dance to-morrow evening in the clubhouse, 313 C street northwest.

The following ladies of Christ Church, Georgetown, under the leadership of Mrs. J. H. W. Blake, have united with the ladies of Christ Church, Rockville, under Mrs. John McDonald and Mrs. C. H. Manner, in taking charge of one of the annual bazaar, to be given at the Arlington Hotel, April 23 and 24, for the benefit of the Episcopal Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital.

These ladies have sent across the sea for new ideas and the result of their search is kept a secret, even from their confederates until the opening of the bazaar—"just to show that women can keep a secret when they want to," said the chairman.

A hot supper, followed by dancing, for which music will be furnished by the military band stationed at Fort Myer, will be features of the bazaar.

The District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs held its regular monthly meeting in the parlors of the Fortner, the president, Mrs. William E. Andrews, presiding, with other officers and about sixty members present. Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Main, the general federation secretary, announced plans for the next biennial of the club, to be held in June in San Francisco, and said there would be a meeting of the delegates from Washington organizations, held in her apartments at the Wellington, in the near future, when final transportation arrangements would be made for the delegation to go together from the Capital and join other Eastern State delegations in Chicago.

Later in the evening, Mrs. Main reported as president of the Aid Association for the Blind, which has been a member of the federation since 1894. Its 125 active and nearly 400 sustaining members have recently acquired a site in Georgetown, opposite the new Montrose Park in R street, where they will soon begin the erection of an ideal home for the sightless people of Washington City and its immediate vicinity. In this connection, Mrs. Main called attention to the excellence of the chair caning, broom-making, and other kinds of work done by the blind for their own support, and asked the patronage of the public on behalf of the workers.

Miss Georgia Robertson gave the Rectory Paper for Housekeepers' Alliance, one of the newly federated clubs, and Miss Eliza A. Vinton, chairman of its reference circle committee, told of the alliance's efforts to raise the standard of domestic service hereabouts. Mrs. Lamb, of the club, asked for the co-operation of the women in Washington in promoting the use of non-phosphorus matches for sanitary reasons.

Dr. Isabel H. Lamb read a gratifying report of the work done by the Woman's Clinic and said that arrangements had been made to extend the service to two evenings each week, so as to accommodate date at minimum cost the wage-earning women and girls who are unable to visit the clinic during the day. Eighty lectures on first aid to the injured were given under the auspices of the clinic from January to March, inclusive. Dr. Lamb also mentioned the home-nursing class and the lecture room to be inaugurated for the benefit of the Boy Scouts and campfire girls, and expressed appreciation of the aid given to all branches of the clinic's educational work by the local press.

Mrs. Ada H. Weiss announced plans for the annual reception of the D. C. P. W. C., which will be given at federation headquarters at the Fortner, April 24, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. William Traut, chairman of the public health committee, asked for an endorsement of a resolution recently adopted by her committee, which is working to secure better laws regarding the registration of births in the National Capital. Dr. Folkmar added to the force of the endorsement by reporting a meeting for the same object, to be held under the auspices of the Monday Evening Club, April 12, at 8 p. m., in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

An informal application for reinstatement in the federation was made by the Union Veteran Legion, and referred to the club extension committee. Mrs. Edith Kingman Kern, chairman.

Miss Edna Sheedy sang several selections and responded to an encore. On motion of Miss Ellen Ruge, president of the Housekeepers' Alliance, the question of a club rally was placed in the hands of the programme committee for the annual meeting of the federation, to be held May 1, with the recommendation that the rally form a part of the proceedings on the day previous when it had already been voted to have the presidents of the various clubs read their reports.

Mr. Leo C. Terry entertained a party of friends and relatives on Wednesday evening, April 4, at 109 Lamont street in honor of his twenty-second birthday anniversary. About twenty-five were in attendance, Misses Marie and Bertha Hansen and Miss Harriet M. Sweet assisting. The chief contributor to the latter was Miss Bertha Hansen, the talented daughter of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, who has an excellent rendition of several difficult songs. Her sister, Miss Marie Hansen, the accomplished pianist, accompanied her.

The host was the recipient of a number of very acceptable gifts, as well as the congratulations and good wishes of the entire company. Refreshments were served, and at 11:30 o'clock the guests departed with unanimous expressions of pleasure and with repeated wishes for many more happy birthdays.

"Musical monologues" are the newest form of entertainment among "readers," and it is distinctly one of the most delightful of all the modern entertainments. Washington will be initiated into the pleasure of them this spring by Evelyn Gurley-Kay, of New York, who is staying here during the spring season, and who will give her own dramatization of "Ben Hur," with orchestra, late this month, at the Willard.

The University of Virginia Glee Club will appear at the Columbia Theater on Friday afternoon, April 26. As compared with the club of last year, the club of 1912 purports to have a more varied repertoire, and a programme of unusual attractiveness will be given. The entertainment is given under the auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for the benefit of the Confederate Memorial Home fund. The university boys come to Washington upon the invitation of Mrs. Marion Butler, district president, United Daughters of the Confederacy, under the direction of Mrs. Howell Smith.

A feature of the entertainment will be the beautiful souvenir programme which will be prepared by a committee of which Mrs. Martin Littleton is chairman. Mrs. Littleton is earnestly engaged in a campaign for the acquisition of the home of Jefferson by the United States government and has just published a most attractive booklet entitled "One Wish," relating to this subject. It is expected that these programmes will be exquisite little books of art. They will be sold by a very beautiful girls selected from the official and resident ranks of society, and a representative from each of the chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy in the District. The sale of the programmes will be in charge of a committee of which Miss Gertrude Patterson is chairman.

The chairman of the patroness committee, Mrs. Leigh Robinson, announces the following ladies as patronesses: Mrs. Champ Clark, Mrs. Oscar Underwood, wife of the Democratic leader of the House, who is an alumna of the University of Virginia; Mrs. Martin Littleton, Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher, Mrs. Lurien, Mrs. Matthew Scott, president of the D. A. R.; Mrs. James L. Black, Mrs. Henry J. Black, Mrs. Olla James, Mrs. Arthur Lee, Mrs. George M. Sternberg, Mrs. W. W. Finley, Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Beattie Kibbey, Mrs. Edward Montford, Mrs. Ralph Cress, Mrs. H. H. Spencer, Mrs. Virginia Miller, Mrs. Lindsey Morehead, Mrs. Fanny J. Hicks, and Mrs. William A. Jones.

Easteride is replete with beautiful offerings for charities and good works. An exhibition of unusual interest is now going on in the official headquarters of the Southern Industrial Educational Association, room 221, Southern Building. Spreads over 100 years old are in perfect condition, showing the wonderful weaving and fast dyes of Colonial times. These are all original patterns and quite unlike the copies being manufactured now. There are rugs of great beauty, knitted counterpanes, and a large lot of new dress fabrics from the North Carolina mountains. Admission is free. Visitors welcomed every day between 9:30 and 5 o'clock.

The "Mountain Pageant," the most pretentious amateur performance ever attempted outside of a real theater, will take place in the new auditorium of the Bristol School Friday evening, April 12, and Saturday morning, April 13. The story of a people lost in the woods, told by symbolic figures and historic tableaux in a wonderful mountain pageant, comes from the pen of Mrs. Martha Gledhill, the author of "Old Abby, the Moonshiner," and the presentation of this beautiful portrayal of history is to be for the benefit of the work of the Southern Industrial Educational Association, of which Mrs. Gledhill is the founder.

Miss Bristol is putting her best energies into the artistic perfection of the play. Many of the historic tableaux are of her own conception, and the school feels a just pride in being the first to portray the educational needs of the mountains in this pageant of history. Among the historic heroes appearing in the tableaux will be Daniel Boone, Sevier, Red Eagle, Shelby, Campbell, Robertson, George Rogers Clark, Lincoln, and Washington. The young ladies of the school taking part in the dancing of the fireflies and dewdrops are Misses Marie and Joseph McCormack, two little Spanish maidens of the Republic of Cuba; Nina Gledhill, daughter of Senator Gore; Genevieve Rusk, Eleanor Traut, Dorothy Campton, Frances Green, and Gladys Thompson. Miss Marie Carroll will symbolize the "blue-bell" of the mountains, Miss Frances Walters the rhododendron, Miss Theresa Lane, granddaughter of ex-Gov. Blackburn, of Kentucky, the laurel, Mary Coffman, the pine, Frances Mills, the fern, Mammie Whaley, the arbutus, The minerals and ores, Elizabeth Russell-Smith, Mr. Maurice Jarvis, a favorite public speaker will read the prologue. Overfatness Condemned.

Fat, or even fattish, women readers who want to be in the mode this year must understand that the demand is for thin, not curves, and govern themselves accordingly. That means OFF with the fat. It has become a duty. Many are trying exercise or dieting, but it is certain they will find these methods too slow, and undesirable. The cheapest and safest way to get in form for the Directors mode is by means of Marmola Prescription Tablets. Any druggist (or the Marmola Co., 81 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.) will give you a large sized case of these elegant little fat reducers, containing a good, generous supply, for seventy-five cents, and even this quantity should be enough to make a decided impression on your excess fat. Many have lost as much as a pound a day. These Marmola Prescription Tablets may be used with impunity and likewise with perfect safety. They are strictly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription, they are, of course, quite harmless, and are certainly beneficial in other ways, in fact, never disturbing the stomach or causing a wrinkle in the flesh.
